The Key of Faith

For a long time, it was considered a sign of intellectual immaturity, if not actual intellectual dishonesty, to suggest that religion should play a role in education. . . . Suppose, then, faith demanded certain intellectual approaches which were incompatible with intellectual honesty.

Men are a little wiser now, we hope. At least, they are beginning to realize that one cannot unlock all doors with the same key. The mind is sort of a pass-key that will open a great many doors, but it will not unlock them all. Undoubtedly, one reason for the despair of our time is that we have tried so hard, so fruitlessly, to unlock doors with our minds when we should have used the key of faith.

Even in our frustration and exasperation, we have still been reluctant to give up our faith in that one key, the human mind.

If we equip the next generation with nothing more than this one intellectual key, we can expect only more despair, more frustration, more exasperation. If young people grow up recognizing no law but their own wills, no obligations except to themselves, it will not be a very strange thing if the world of 1960 or thereabouts should be pretty much of a jungle. If the student of Wartburg goes forth with nothing else, we hope he at least has found his faith here.

Faith can unlock the many closed doors of ignorance and darkness. . . . The Bible does not explain everything, but it does tell us that it is the key to the key, the basis for understanding. . . . That is the key which religion, as an integral part of education, wants to give to all who wish to have understanding.

—H. A. Flossner

What Doing?

Another milestone has been reached, and sure as anything, we have another decision to make!

What are we planning to do for the rest of our lives? Are we determined to go with our present mode of study, or is our mind fluctuating between one or two or three other plans, as it has in the past?

Here is a thought to any engineer, chemist, commerce student, teacher—to any planning for any of these Christian professions—when you think about your life, perhaps feeling not quite satisfied with your choice, remember that the church is still advertising for thousands more full-time workers. Then try to make a higher profession!

And to those who have been planning to go into the full-time service—Are you thinking of changing your mind? Horrors, is the need any less than several years ago when you set your goal? Why should money, comfort, security mean more today? Where has that wonderful vision been lost along the way in favor of another profession? Answer that. Then try to make a higher profession!

Little Brown Church
Sees Innen Wedding

"Little Brown Church in the Vale" was the scene of the wedding of Eldon Innen, Wartburg sophomore, and Dorothy Olsen of Lovett on Dec. 22.

The bride wore a dress of tulle with an American Beauty rose corsage.

Miss Molly Innen, the groom's sister and former student at Wartburg, was bridesmaid. Miss Innen is now teaching fifth and sixth grades at Palmer. Her man was the brother of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Innen now reside at the city trailer camp while he continues his studies at Wartburg. Both work at the Upjohn cafe.

Artistic Display
Draws 100 People

Displaying a group of rather conservative etchings and lithographs by contemporary American artists, Wartburg's art department held an art exhibition last Sunday afternoon in Old Main.

"These prints are sent from New York by a group of artists who endeavor to put good examples of modern art within the grasp of the average American," stated Miss Helen Wright, head of the art department, in commenting on the exhibition.

Among the artists represented by prints shown were Thomas Benton Hart and Steward Curry. Tea was served during the exhibition to about one hundred people. Barbara Becker and Sarah Gimbel, both sophomores, poured.

'Double-Doors'
Is Dramatic Choice

"Double Door" has been selected as the next production of the Dramatics club, as announced by L. W. Brewster, director. The dramatic play will be given on March 14 in the high school auditorium.

Ruth Engelbrecht, freshman of Mendota, Ill., was elected treasurer at the club meeting Jan. 16 in convocation hall. The vacancy was created by the resignation of Clifford Eriksen, senior of Bancroft, S. D.

Foyous for the play are being held this week.

College Broadcasts
Choir, Frosh Solo

Wartburg's radio broadcast on Jan. 26 will include a song by the choir, "I'll Not Let Thee Go" by J. S. Bach. Florence Schuttler, freshman voice student from Tiptonka, will sing a soprano solo, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings" by Little.

Dr. Edwin Lienohm, head of the music department, directs the choir numbers and Mrs. Erma Bowman, voice instructor, will accompany the vocal solo.

Radio broadcast of Jan. 21 consisted of a choir selection, "Father Most Holy" by Christiansen, and a selection from Beethoven played by the string trio—Ann Marie Rath, cello; Joan Sandrock, violin; and Lois Landeck, piano.

Hot Coals
From The Ash Can

Cupid has certainly been a busy little character lately! For example, look at some of the new couples. Carol Koots (the dishwasher's sweetheart) and Bill Engelbrecht have been seen together on several occasions now. Tak, tak.

The Marsha Eis-Norm Langbols and "Tele" Sodi—"Bobbie" Becker combines come under the heading of "flourishing friendships," too! And Walt Danemann and June White have stepped out ahead in whirlwind fashion by means of that old "custom," the exchange of class rings.

Priebe Returns

Kenneth Priebe a sophomore of the International Luther League toured the northwestern part of Wisconsin for 10 days, Jan. 5-15.

Some of the places he visited were Eau Claire, Wausau, Madison, and Richland Center. The purpose of his tour was to lecture on the program of Luther Leaguers and show the moving picture of the American convention. He held leadership meetings with Luther League leaders, officers and congregations.

"I thoroughly enjoyed the experience of meeting our pastors and their Luther Leaguers," stated Ken. "We know they will continue to support the program and through it honor and serve their Lord."

When asked how he enjoyed the tour, he remarked, "I received real hospitality—good food—enjoyed the leaguers of Wisconsin (take it either way)."

Ken will speak on Jan. 23 at a meeting in Charles City and Jan. 27 at Des Moines City at a Luther League banquet. In February he will make a similar tour as the one to Wisconsin into the state of Illinois.

Late Mail-Check Popular.

Several couples have developed the habit of getting their mail quite late—late at night, in fact. The new post office must have some fault-finders. Could it be the new first floor? What say, Don Fallon and Irma Hoefling and Al Puke and Delees Lorenz? (It's a good thing there aren't more Lookers around, or they would surely make this column too.)

It takes an out-of-town basketball trip to bring certain things to light. Those who went to Des Moines for the Luther game saw "Buddy" Matheson and Delbert Meyer there enjoying things in general, and each other in particular! Oh, yes, then there were the girls who wanted to stop to eat with the team after the game! And Gene Bowditch, seemingly not feeling too downhearted about the loss!

To Picture Engaged Girls.

Oh, you lucky girls, the TRUMPET staff has decided to print your picture in the paper as soon as you are engaged. Don't run—there's plenty of column space for everyone!

And how can we go without mentioning the popularity of the Elm family with Bill Hansen? After Marsha's walking out of the picture, there was sister Elaine able to fill the social space in his time-outage!

Mary Stolfuss had a visitor about campus the forepart of this week!

"Bess" was heard harping on the "Woman subject" in regards to the basketball squad again.

Before the faculty moved in, the reserved section for the Pep Club in the gym always seemed to be fringed with the campus male "interesters."

Life In Ministry Subject Of Talks By Retired Men

"Looking at the ministry from the end of the road" was the topic presented by six retired ministers, living in Waverly, and their interviewers, Dr. John Hiltner, before the pre-theological students at Chi Rho meetings, Jan. 22 in convocation hall.

Students To Consider Prayer.
Motions were carried that it should be suggested to the entire student body to participate in the prayer night, which would be devoted to those across the ocean, missions or other causes.

The Reverends George Zink, George Kirchberger, Christian Mack, Alice Otterberg, August Mathias, all of the American Lutheran church, and the Rev. Otto Bergfelder, of the United Lutheran church, spoke of the various phases of their ministry. Mrs. Nora Deguane, minister's widow, was also a guest at the meeting.

Only American-Born Of Six.
Born in Iowa, the Rev. Mr. Mathias was the only American-Born of those present. He prefers even today to read his New Testament in Greek. When asked what courses pre-theological students should take, the Iowa minister replied, "I regret, in my own case, that so much emphasis was placed upon foreign languages rather than the more practical courses."

Burton Schwerin, midget at Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque, recently swept to his seventh consecutive ping-pong championship there defeating Roland Hanselmann, junior of the Seminary, in three straight games, 21-13, 21-17 and 21-15.

The doubles tournament has not as yet been completed.

"Water of Salvation," the Rev. Mr. Bergfelder, who attends St. Paul's congregation in Waverly, saw no difference between the A. L. C. and the U. L. C. With a twinkle in his eye he remarked that he adhered to the U. L. C. because he "receives his monthly pension check from them." Combining the opinion that the Dokotus clung somewhat to the German services, he proudly stated that there are no more Western Synods of the U. L. C. in which he served.

"Good Home Essential."
Establish a good home for him" was the caution of Mrs. Deuane in regard to the most important task of a minister's wife.

She believes that making things comfortable for a minister-husband is the chief contribution of a pastor's wife to his success. Preaching and teaching were the most valuable assets in making Christians. The ministers believed that there is a great need for modern method in church work, such as Luther League and Brotherhood. All agreed that they would choose the same life again had they to do it over.

'Divine Acts God' Says Prof. Bach

"Father Divine says he is living with the obsession that he is God," stated Prof. Marcus Bach of the State University of Iowa in speaking to Wartburg faculty and students at convocation Wednesday, Jan. 22.

Prof. Bach who teaches a course at SU in Protestant religions of America, has made the study of little-known religions his life work, and has written a book, "They Have Found a Faith," describing first-hand experience with a number of smaller cults in America. Prof. Bach also is a master on the rostrum in presenting and describing his topic material.

"He accepts no money," the speaker went on in describing the religious cult of Father Divine, Negro, "and returns all contributions made to him. One comes away from his sermon not wishing to remember the entire thing, but to remember certain quotable phrases from it."

Upon being queried as to the source of Father Divine's finances, Prof. Bach presented several hypotheses, saying, "It is my idea that his cult is operated on a gigantic co-operative type or organization. Thousands of workers work for nothing and are given a home and clothing in Father Divine's heavens."

Pepsters Perform At Miner Game

Pep club girls entertained with formations during the half at the Wisconsin Tech vs. Wartburg college game Wednesday evening, Jan. 23, in the Waverly high school gymnasium.

Marching the length of the floor and then returning, they formed an "M" for the "Miners" of Wisconsin Tech. The girls then formed a "W" for Wartburg, with the cheerleaders leading the spectators in a cheer for Wartburg and in the singing of the college field song.

Pep club will perform again at Wartburg's next home game.

Most men think of what they would like to do when they retire in terms of what they would like to do now. If they had the time. Usually they overlook the fact that they will have had the chance to do many of those things before they retire. Moreover, as the years pass by, peace, contentment and freedom from financial worry are likely to loom larger in the mind as things really to be desired.

There are few better fortunes for a long life, and a happy one, than a check of the sums amassed — small though it may be — arriving without fail on the same day every month for as long as you may live. A Lutheran Mutual Retirement Income policy will provide such an income at age 60 or 65.

Our "Retirement Income" folder will help you best plan an income suited to your individual needs. Write for your copy today.

L. S. A. Collects $63 For Missions With Box Social

J. Rammueler C. Wernast

Over $63 was cleared at the Lutheran Student association box social on Jan. 19 in the cafeteria. The lowest price paid was $17.00 and the highest was $3.75.

Beyron Puhall, sophomore of Stockton, Ill., conducted the brief devotional meeting preceding the sale of boxes.

Since the box social served as the chief means for raising $75 for the training of native missionaries in New Guinea, Raymond Martin, senior of Milwaukee, Wis., read several letters received from New Guinea missionaries.

Letters Read.

Mismissions were the Rev. Emil Hennemann of Ramona, S. D., a veteran missionary; the Rev. Martin Heit of Waverly, who entered the field last year, and lay missionaries Clarence Wergert of Edgely, N. D., carpenter, and Jean Rammueler of Dubuque, secretary, both who attended Wartburg last year.

Featured in the letters were the impressions received from the Christian spirit among the natives and of the need and progress of the reconstruction work.

Norheim Auctioneer.

Auctioneer was Raymond Norheim, instructor in history and economics. The boxes, which contained lunch for four, or six persons, were sold over two and three times, respectively. The boxes brought about $61.

Boys having extra items left over from their boxes auctioned them off. This brought the total to over the $63 mark.

A Note To Those Planning College Enrollment For The 1947-48 Schoolyear

Even more students are expected to seek enrollment in the nation's colleges next year than are now in attendance. Every effort is being made to increase facilities, but building restrictions and other obstacles will make it difficult for many schools to increase enrollment to any extent by fall. Although a number of new buildings are scheduled for construction on the Wartburg campus as early as possible, including a women's dormitory to house 230 students, the enrollment capacity for the 1947-48 school-year will most likely be about the same as it is for the current year. This will mean that fewer new students can be admitted, because a much higher percentage of the enrollment will be upperclass students next year as compared to this year. So if you plan to enroll at Wartburg in the fall
